

At A Window Between Worlds, we believe in the transformative power of art. Through the creation process, we can locate our wishes and visions for change. As we hold onto our art, we carry our intentions with us as a reminder for ongoing growth. This practice can open doors of connection within ourselves and with others.

Throughout the year, you'll be invited to create, carry, and connect as you explore the possibilities for yourself, others, and beyond.

CREATE

You are invited to be part of this change by taking a Window of Time to think about the following:

What activities help you stay connected to your strength?

You can use words, shapes, or symbols in and around your the puzzle pieces to express yourself.

CARRY

Art goes beyond our tangible creations and takes shape over time. Keep your creation nearby and revisit it when you need a reminder, encouragement, or inspiration for continued connection with yourself and others.

CONNECT

We'll have additional opportunities to connect, share stories, and celebrate our movement toward change. Visit awbw.org/connect to upload your creations and inspire each other. You can also post on your social media profiles using #AWBWconnect and tagging @awbworg.
